Minister's message

I am pleased to present the Canada Revenue Agency's (CRA) report on fees for 2021–22.

This year's report once again provides detailed information about the components that comprise CRA service fees, in keeping with the CRA's ongoing commitment to open and transparent fee management.

Beginning in 2021–22, the CRA began offering remissions, or partial fee refunds, to clients in instances where service standards are not met, in line with the Service Fees Act.

In April 2022, an increase to the CRA's Advanced Income Tax Ruling Fee, based on the CRA's actual costs of providing this service, went into effect. This update is being phased-in over two fiscal years, with the second half of the fee increase to take effect April 1, 2023.

As well, additional fee groupings were identified through our periodic review and assessment efforts for all types of fee programs. I am pleased to announce that these fees are now included in the report for 2021–22.

I will continue to lead the CRA's commitment to quality client-focused service delivery and transparency provided under the Service Fees Act.

Original Signed

The Honourable Diane Lebouthillier, P.C., M.P.
Minister of National Revenue

About this report

This report, which is tabled under section 20 of the *Service Fees Act*ⁱⁱ, the *Low-Materiality Fees Regulations*ⁱⁱⁱ, and subsection 4.2.8 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities^{iv}, contains information about the fees the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) had the authority to set in fiscal year 2021–22.

The report covers fees that are subject to the Service Fees Act.

For reporting purposes, fees are categorized by fee-setting mechanism. There are three mechanisms:

1. Act, regulation or fees notice
The authority to set these fees is delegated to a department, minister or Governor in Council pursuant to an act of Parliament.
2. Contract
Ministers have the authority to enter into contracts, which are usually negotiated between the minister and an individual or organization, and which cover fees and other terms and conditions. In some cases, that authority may also be provided by an act of Parliament.
3. Market rate or auction
The authority to set these fees is pursuant to an act of Parliament or a regulation, and the minister, department or Governor in Council has no control over the fee amount.

For fees set by act, regulation or fees notice, the report provides totals for fee groupings, as well as detailed information for each fee. For fees set by contract, the report provides totals only.

Although the fees the CRA charges under the Access to Information Act were subject to the Service Fees Act, they are not included in this report. Information on the CRA's access to information fees for 2021–22 is in our annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Access to Information Act, which is posted on our webpage: Canada Revenue Agency's Annual Reports to Parliament on the Administration of the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act^v.

Remissions

In 2021–22, the CRA was subject to the requirements to issue remissions under section 7 of the Service Fees Act and subsection 4.2.4 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities to remit a fee, in whole or in part, to a fee payer when a service standard was deemed not met. The CRA’s remission policy and procedures, pursuant to the Service Fees Act, are on the following web page: Remissions for Service Fees^{vi}.

Overall totals, by fee-setting mechanism

The following table presents the total revenue, cost and remissions for all fees the CRA had the authority to set in 2021–22, by fee-setting mechanism.

Overall totals for 2021–22, by fee-setting mechanism

Fee-setting mechanism	Revenue ($)	Cost ($)	Remissions ($)
Fees set by contract *	134,595,101	134,595,101	Remissions do not apply to fees set by contract.
Fees set by act, regulation or fees notice	1,889,314	3,325,056	168
Total	136,484,415	137,920,157	168

* The figures presented are the CRA's totals for services provided on a cost-recovery basis to clients external to the federal government, including provinces, territories, crown corporations and private entities. These services are provided using non-legally binding arrangements, such as memoranda of understanding.

Totals, by fee grouping, for fees set by act, regulation or fees notice

A fee grouping is a set of fees relating to a single business line, directorate or program that a department had the authority to set for those activities.

This section presents, for each fee grouping, the total revenue, cost and remissions for all fees the CRA had the authority to set in 2021–22 that are set by the following:

Service standard

Our objective is to issue an advance income tax ruling (Ruling) to the client within a specified, agreed-upon time period. The service standard is 90 business days commencing with the receipt of all information required from the client as outlined in Information Circular IC 70-6, Advance Income Tax Rulings and Technical Interpretations.

Our objective is to complete a pre-ruling consultation teleconference with the client within a specified, agreed-upon time period. The service standard is within 15 business days from the date the CRA confirms to the client that the Pre-ruling Consultation request has been accepted as outlined in Information Circular IC70-6.

In some cases, achieving the 90 or 15 business days service target may not be possible due to delays outside of the CRA's control. This may arise in situations involving exceptionally complex cases, requests to expand and change the scope of the Ruling or pre-ruling consultation, or cases that require intra-governmental consultation, for example with the Departments of Justice or Finance. In those circumstances, when the service target date needs to be adjusted, the CRA will inform the client in advance and establish an alternate mutually agreed upon service target date.

Performance result

During the 2021–2022 fiscal year, 80% of advance income tax rulings were issued within 90 business days of receipt of all essential information from the client.

During the 2021–2022 fiscal year, 70.6% of pre-ruling consultation teleconferences were completed within 15 business days from the date the CRA confirmed to the client that the pre-ruling consultation request had been accepted.

Service standard

Due to the complexity and the availability of the data, some requests may take more or less time to complete and deliver. The CRA's service standard is to issue requested statistical information on or before a mutually agreed-upon service target date with a performance target of providing this information on or before this date 90% of the time.

After receiving all the information required for the request, the CRA and client will agree on a mutually acceptable date to deliver the requested information (referred to as the "service target date" below).

Completion date for the purposes of this directive will be the date that the requested information is delivered to the client by the CRA.

Performance result

Statistical data was provided to the client on or before a mutually agreed-upon service target date 80% of the time.
